ANUK National Code

The college is signed up to the national ANUK code and has just been awarded the certificate for 2020.

The National Code for Larger Student Developments provides best practice support to accommodation providers, encouraging accountability, proper complaints procedures, verifying standards and promoting continuous improvement in facilities and services.

This helps St Edmund's to benchmark standards against other Colleges and Universities to ensure we provide the best "home from home" possible for our students.

Edspresso goes greener

Look out for the new plastic-free take away boxes!

Not only are they more practical (the lids close easily now) but they are also better for the environment.
